KENTUCKY AT JAMESTOWN.

Commission Begins Work for Representation of State at Big Exposition.

With the purpose of providing for the proper representation of the State at the Jamestown Exposition, to be held in Norfolk, Va., April 26 to Nov. 30, 1907, the Kentucky Jamestown Exposition Commission has been organized and incorporated. Headquarters have been opened in the Commercial Building, Louisville, and a campaign of exploitation has commenced. It is the intention of the commission to make the representation typical of the entire State and a replica of the Fort of Roanoke has been agreed upon as the Kentucky Building. Funds for the erection of the building and the collection and installation of exhibits will be raised by popular subscription and the sum of $40,000 will be required for the purpose.

The commission is composed of the following members: J. Stoddard Johnson, Louisville, president; John B. Atkinson, Earlinton, vice president and director of finance; Charles E. Illege, Frankfort, director of State building construction; Malcolm H. Crump, Bowling Green, director of forestry exhibits; James M. Benton, Winchester, director of exhibits of manufacturers; Honorary Commissioners, Hubert Vreeland, Frankfort, director of agricultural and horticultural exhibits; J. H. Fuqua, Frankfort, director of educational exhibits; Charles J. Norwood, Lexington, director of mineral exhibits; William H. Lindsay, of Frankfort, director of historical events. Logan C. Murray, Louisville, is treasurer, and C. C. Ousley, secretary. The latter is in charge of the commissioner's headquarters.

Seldom has a movement in which the entire State is interested started more auspiciously. The commission is the outgrowth of action taken at the Fifth State Development Convention held at Winchester Oct. 10 to 12. It was then decided that the great fair to be held in Norfolk, Va., presents an exceptional opportunity to Kentucky to make the products of her soil and factories known to the populous eastern section of the United States and to foreign countries. The excellent showing made by Kentucky at the World's Fair in St. Louis is still fresh in the memories of Kentuckians and the benefit of this representation is now being felt and seems to increase as time goes on.

Direct requests for contributions to the fund will be made of all financial institutions, manufacturing plants, lumber and mining companies, mercantile houses and similar enterprises throughout the State. The various commercial organizations of Kentucky will be asked to canvass their respective communities for subscriptions. The time for the collection of funds, erection of buildings and installation of exhibits is so brief that the work of the commission must necessarily be prosecuted with the greatest vigor.

Subscription books are now open. Any one wishing to make a contribution should not wait for a personal solicitation but may send check, money order or currency direct to Logan C. Murray, treasurer, American National Bank, Louisville.

In Time of Peace.

In the first months of the Russo-Japan war we find a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

Five of the 14 ice dealers who were placed on trial in the criminal court at Philadelphia on the charge of conspiracy to raise the price of ice, threw themselves upon the mercy of the court.

Had a Close Call.

"A dangerous surgical operation, involving the removal of a malignant ulcer, as large as my hand, from my daughter's hip, was prevented by the application of Buckle's Arnlein Salve," says A. C. Stickle, of Milledge, W. Va. Persistent use of the Salve completely cured it. Cures cuts, burns and injuries. 25¢ at Penny's Drug Store, Stanford, Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard.

Judge Alford, of Indianapolis, says there is "an awful lot of smoke" in the granting of a franchise to the Chicago, Indianapolis and Evansville railway.

IN MEMORIAM.

The shadow of a great sorrow fell across the hearts and home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Anderson, when on the morning of Nov. 10 the death angel visited their home and took from their embrace their eldest son, Willie, aged about 14 years. His illness was short but painful, he being in the school-room just a short time previous to his death. He was a noble, obedient son, just blooming into young manhood, the picture of health and happiness and seemed destined for a long life of usefulness. But the dear Lord had a place for him in heaven and the time had come to remove him, just as he was beginning to make home happy.

How dark the mysteries over such a visitation as this, and yet we know God never makes a mistake. He doeth all things well. How much he will be missed in the home circle, where he was dearly loved. How sad their home since father's pride and mother's joy is gone. But may they look to Jesus. He is the Sweet Comforter in all affliction and may He give them grace to endure the afflictive stroke and be constrained to look forward with confidence to a joyful reunion with the departed one beyond the dark river, through which he has just passed. From the bright evidence he left, we are confident his spirit has swept through the beautiful gate that stands ajar.

Among his last remarks he assured them he was "in the narrow path that leads to God" and was ready and willing to go. He gave his young life to Christ about four years ago and became a member of the Baptist church, loved his Sunday school and was faithful in attendance.

Oh, how lonely our home
For a loved one is gone,
And our pathway in shadows doth lie;
Oh, how dreary the way
And how long seems the day
Since the morn'g we bade him good-bye.

Ah! no heart can express
The deep anguish of this—
For a loved one to slip from our side,
He who has made home so bright
And helped e'er in the right,
Has been borne from us o'er the tide.

So we'll look to the sky,
Where we'll meet by and by
For our treasures are gath'ring up there
And while walking below,
We'll have Jesus we know
If we give ourselves to His care.

For He has promised to take Every burden and make
It a stepping stone upward to heaven;
When we've joined that sweet land
We shall then understand
The trials were but mercies when giv'n.

The cars will be side-tracked and a man appointed to take charge of them and see the coal weighed out and collect for it and turn the money over to the railroad agents.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackett, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tackett's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that a ter taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." It is bad enough to steal from any one, but from those in dire need of help is the limit of meanness. The discovery has been made that nearly one million dollars of the charitable fund contributed for the relief of the earthquake sufferers in San Francisco went into the pockets of grafters. Acting upon the adage of the Latins, which said that he gives twice who gives quickly, people from all over the country responded to the call for help from the sufferers, and now to learn that so large amount of it has been stolen will dull the edge of charity and make the calls in future less readily responsive. The disclosure of graft from such a fraud is a blot and a reproach on our civilization.

Gov. BECKHAM's official majority for U. S. Senator is 11,117; Judge Hager for Governor, 30,882; M. O. Winfrey's for Superintendent of Public Instruction, 5,574; John K. Hendrick, for Attorney General, 33,551; J. W. Newman, for Commissioner of Agriculture, 5,320. Judge Hager carried 91 counties and Gov. Beckham 80. Judge Hager polled the largest vote of any candidate having opposition. Of the congressional districts Judge Hager carried nine of the 11 districts, losing only the Fifth and Sixth. In the senatorial contest Gov. Beckham carried seven districts and McCreary four districts, the Second, Fifth, Sixth and Eighth.

REPUBLICANS at Washington are said to favor Justice John M. Harlan for the Republican nomination for Governor of Kentucky, and it is said that the question has met with favor in his eyes. The President will be asked to use his endeavors in arranging the programme for the Kentucky Republicans. We opine Justice Harlan will let well enough alone. He has not yet forgotten a race he made in 1875, when Senator McCreary defeated him for governor 38,000.

THE next reunion of the Confederate Veterans, which is to occur at Richmond, Va., June next, will be the most interesting of the series. The Jamestown Exposition will be on, the whole section is full of historic places and a large bronze statue of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States, is to be unveiled. The ranks of the old soldiers are being rapidly decimated, but it is hoped all of those now living will be spared for the occasion.

THE State primary cost 29,007.23, or $3,344.62 less than was estimated and collected from the candidates. This will be good news to the candidates, especially to those who met defeat after having spent their money liberally.

He has won his spurs."

Jottings on a Sight-Seeing Trip.

While on our little jaunt through the South, it was our good fortune to visit that splendid and growing city of Memphis, which only a few years ago had about 75,000 population, but to-day it has upwards of 180,000. Its people are progressive and nothing but thrift seems to abound there now. A drive over this beautiful Southern city would convince any tourist that it would be a splendid place to cast his lot, unless he had decided to live in the greater and better Commonwealth—Kentucky.

A great many Kentuckians live in Memphis and have contributed no little towards the upbuilding of it commercially and socially. While there we were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dorion. Mrs. Dorion was formerly the beautiful and charming Miss Lucie Lee Allen, of Millersburg, Ky., who often has been the guest of Miss Susan Fisher Woods, of this place. They are happily domiciled in a handsome residence at 1307 Vinton Place, Annadale Park, in one of the swellest residence portions of the city. Mr. Dorion is one of Memphis' best and most substantial citizens and is held in highest esteem by all. He is connected with the large wholesale grocery firm of J. Fargasson & Co. Mr. and Mrs. D. have as their guests just now Misses Susan Fisher Woods, of this place, and Elizabeth Allen, of Millersburg, who are being highly entertained and are the recipients of much attention in social circles there, having been given several charming receptions, theatre box parties, progressive euchre parties, etc. Last Friday afternoon Mrs. Dorion entertained very elegantly in honor of her sister, Miss Allen, and Miss Woods at cards and the society set was out in goodly numbers and handsomely gowned. Misses Woods and Allen assisted Mrs. Dorion in receiving in a charming manner, which is characteristic of these two Kentucky belles.

In our tour through the business portion of the city we found nothing but push and thrift among her merchants, with the choicest of goods and up-to-date in every particular and crowded stores all the time.

Our drive through the residence portion was most interesting and enjoyable. Nothing but palatial places and costly residences could be seen on all sides and to us it seemed like a King or Queen of some great, foreign country occupied each and every one of them, instead of the much beloved Southerners.

When time for our departure for the West arrived, it was with great reluctance, because we had met so many pleasant acquaintances and had been the recipient of that genuine and cordial Southern hospitality, dispensed by dear Kentucky friends that our heart really and truly ached with a remembrance of it all in our poor soul.

At Guthrie, Ky., we found Mr. Robert H. Coffey, of Stanford, awaiting us and we journeyed on to St. Louis together in a Pullman over the L. & N., which within itself, was a palace with a diner attached, from its white linen on a mahogany, bedecked with finest of silverware, we devoured the fat of the land, which was elegantly served and fitly for the gods themselves.

Arriving at St. Louis we boarded a Chicago & Alton Limited for Alton, Ill., where we found big-hearted and popular Jim Menefee, who is now manager of the Kinloch Telephone Co. for the Eastern District of Illinois, the largest independent telephone system in the United States. Surprised at our coming was he, but agreeably so, we are glad to state.

Manager Menefee at once took his two old Stanford protégés in charge and showed us every attention possible and made our visit one grand, sweet song, which will always be greatly appreciated by his two friends. Mr. Menefee is keeping up the high standard of the company, to which he was intrusted with its responsible keeping about one year ago, and is both popular with the company and the citizens of Alton, as was shown on many occasions while we were in the city as his guests.

Mr. Coffey and the writer are under lasting obligations to Judge Haagen, one of Alton's leading legal lights, for the many elegant courtesies shown us while there.

Back to St. Louis again over the Chicago & Alton Limited, we sped in another Pullman. Accompanied by Mr. Menefee, we lodged in the Missouri Athletic Club's cafe, where we enjoyed as fine a spread as ever tickled our palates. In that popular cafe over two years ago, our memory recalled the fact that the Kentucky Society of Missouri banqueted the General Assembly of Kentucky, of which I had the honor of being a member, after dedicating the Kentucky building at the World's Fair.

It was indeed a pleasure to be there again in company within the same magnificent and elegant cafe with two as loyal and true Kentucky friends as ever lived—Messrs. Menefee and Coffey. At the club we had the pleasure of meeting an old Stanford boy, Mr. William G. Lackey, son of Hon. G. A. Lackey, of this place, who is doing well in the Mound City, being connected with the legal department of that large institution—The Mississippi Valley Trust Co.

Sunday we viewed many business streets and resident portions of the city and gazed with great amazement at the sky scrapers and million dollar palaces of multi-millionaires, who have reaped their great wealth from the toiling masses and great common people.

As long as the people of these United States continue to keep in power at Washington, a republican president who accedes to the demands of organized wealth and plutocracy, just so long will the great corporations and trusts of this country continue to govern the farmers and laboring people of this grand and glorious country, which God has blessed us with and given to us to maintain and upbuild for the benefit of the great common people of our land.

But remember this is only one of many. We have "Queen Quality" styles for every taste and for every need; many new ones received this week.

IDELE MONEY.—Why leave your money idle or deposited at only 3 per cent., when you can get 5 per cent. net by purchasing the First Mortgage Gold Bonds issued by the Louisville Title Company? You can invest in sums of $50, $100, $250, $500 $1,000 or more. Nothing safer than these bonds, secured by approved Real Estate with insured title. Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than of All Others Put Together.

Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Romance of Morgan's Raid Recalled.

A Harrodsburg dispatch says:

The death of Mrs. Scotia Inskip Chenoweth, the wealthiest woman in Fayette county, at Lexington, recalls a romantic incident of the Civil War.

Although a native of the Western Reserve of Ohio, she was here on a visit at the time General John H. Morgan made his famous raid through Kentucky. When the raiders rode down Main street, this city, with General Morgan, Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge, Col. J. Q. Chenoweth and Captain Gabe Alexander at the head, they were welcomed by many sympathizers, among them a bevy of beautiful girls, including Miss Inskip, who in their name presented a "Bonnie Blue Flag" to the soldiers. Miss Inskip made the speech of the presentation. Colonel Breckinridge delivered the speech of acceptance. This banner was carried by Morgan's men on their famous raid through Indiana and Ohio. On learning of the flag presentation, the citizens of Xenia, Ohio, where Miss Inskip had lived, held an indignation meeting. A few months after the close of the war Miss Inskip married Colonel Chenoweth.

They separated in very short time, and Colonel Chenoweth went to Texas, became a State Senator, a Circuit Judge, and later was one of the Comptrollers of the Currency under President Cleveland. He is at present Superintendent of the Texas Confederate Home. Mrs. Chenoweth lived a simple life after the separation. Of her great wealth she gave freely in the cause of charity.

Made Happy for Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure." Quicker, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by Penny's Drug Drug, Stanford, Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard. Price 50c.
